

WHEN A FRENCH WINE LOVER MARRIES A PHOENICIAN WORD LOVER

Come meet an American writer and her French winemaker husband

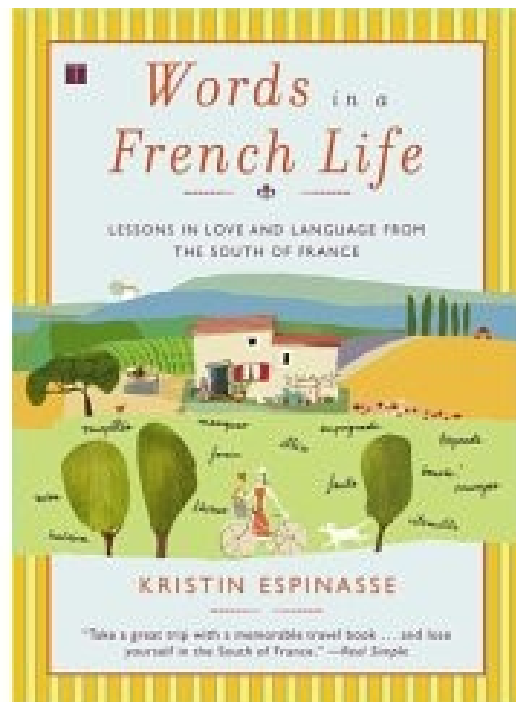

December 26th 2009 at Vincent's farmers market - 3930 East Camelback, Phoenix

Jean-Marc will talk about his love and passion for wine which lead him and his French-American partners to purchase some old vines and create Domaine Rouge-Bleu. He will tell about his wine venture in the Southern Rhône Valley which started 20 years ago when his Uncle bought a few parcels of vines in Châteauneuf du Pape to re-create the family's tradition of making wine. He will pour you his awarded wines (91 points Wine Spectator, Gold Medal in Paris..). A few bottles of his famous Uncle's Châteauneuf du Pape wines (Domaine du Banneret) will also make it and a few bottles will be available to purchase.

Kristin is really looking forward to meeting fellow francophiles and will be presenting her new book chock-full of some of her favorite French words and photos. She will be welcoming questions for some convivial conversation. Two of her books will be for sale.

Bring your friends !

www.rouge-bleu.com

www.french-word-a-day.com